

Gromyko: Berlin is 'Volcano,' Rejects U.S. Bid for A-Test Ban

Tells U.S. German Treaty Vital

UNITED NATIONS (AP). — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko warned yesterday that events may lead to a fatal boundary "rattling the sabre and spouting threats" on the Berlin crisis.

He told the General Assembly in a wide-ranging policy speech that the absence of a German peace treaty creates a threat to peace and is blamed the Nato powers for the current increase in international tensions.

Mr. Gromyko turned down President Kennedy's proposal for an immediate treaty to end testing of nuclear weapons. He said that the only solution is the one proposed by the Soviet Government.

"This is to agree on questions of general and complete disarmament," he said. "Such an agreement would mean the adoption of the question of nuclear test cessation as well."

Mr. Gromyko said those protesting Soviet tests are only showing "sham concern for peace."

"Yes, the Soviet Government is conducting nuclear tests, is creating new kinds there is to be war or peace," he said. There could be no neutral states in this question. "Neither could or should the U.N. as a whole be a 'neutral, indifferent onlooker.'"

On the constitutional crisis in the U.N. created by the death of Secretary-General Hammarskjöld, Mr. Gromyko said that the problem should first of all be tackled by the Security Council. (The Western powers are seeking an interim solution through the veto-free General Assembly.)

Mr. Gromyko insisted that the vacancy be filled by three officials, representing the Communist bloc, the non-aligned countries and the Western powers. He branded as absurd Western allegations that the frozen powers would paralyse the United Nations.

China to U.N.

The Soviet Minister called or weapons, is displaying his strength as a means of strengthening the defensive capability of the Soviet state and our allies which, together with the Soviet Union, pursue a policy of peace and like ourselves, stand for general and complete disarmament.'

Hotbed of War

At the beginning of his speech Mr Gromyko turned almost immediately to the Berlin crisis, saying that West Berlin had 'become the hotbed of a great war' and was 'inhabited by the character of an active volcano, contains the threat of an explosion.'

The Western powers demand freedom and welfare of the West. Berliners to be assured, he said, adding: 'But we are in favour of that We have repeated many times and are repeating: Yes, we are in favour of that.'

Mr Gromyko said the Soviet Union also was in favour of freedom and welfare for all China to the U.N. and the expulsion of the Chinese-American Nationalists. He opposed any study of the China representative's case, as reported under the heading 'China'. He said consideration of it would mean the goal of those who want such a committee to advance 'the aggressive and extremely false theories of "two Chinas"'

On disarmament, Mr Gromyko said the recent U.S.-Soviet agreement on principles for disarmament had been 'good feelings in the Soviet Union.' But, he said, it would be a case of excessive optimism if one thought that the green light signal has been flashed on, and that a smouldering fire ahead for disarmament talks.

He said the U.S. and the Soviet Union failed to negotiate an agreement on the main point: 'Whether the objective should be disarmament or control over armaments—I repeat control over armaments, over general

"In the implementation of Our proposal for a peace treaty there is no question of banning access to West Berlin or of a blockade as some people try to assert," Mr. Gromyko said. "No," he said. "The free city of West Berlin would have the right to establish ties with any country of any continent." He spoke of a participation in guarantees of freedom and independence of a free city of Berlin and said the Soviet Government was ready to agree to the use of troops of neutral states or U.N. troops as guarantors of the status of such a free city.

Must Sign Treaty

Mr. Gromyko said that the Soviet Union would have to conclude a peace treaty with East Germany alone "only in the event that, despite all our efforts, no understanding is reached with the Western powers." He said that the Soviet draft of a German peace treaty was delivered to the government concerned two years ago and there had been "ample time" to study it and call a peace conference.

Conclusion of such a treaty was "a question of whether ments renounce their position. "It will mean that disarmament talks will continue to be doomed to failure."

He charged that the U.S. and Britain never agreed to complete discontinuance of nuclear weapons tests, but sought loopholes to legalize improvement of their weapons. He said underground tests were such a loophole

Police Detain Two Arab Communists

JERUSALEM POST STAFF
NABATHEH. — Police arrested two Arab Communists on suspicion of having been among the organizers and participants in the rioting and demonstrations last Wednesday.

The two men were arrested in the home of Communist Town Councilor Khalil Khoury, who was himself held and released on bail, for reasons of health, on Friday. Ziaf was found by a police squad in a pile of dirty laundry while Zarik was hiding under the bed.

Both men were returned to the town's streets and alleys, the absence of Jewish guests is severely felt in local restaurants and places of entertainment.

In Nabathea, Commander Avraham Selinger, chief of the Northern District Police, told the Jerusalem Post that all was quiet throughout the northern area.

About 80 persons are now under arrest, 30 of them from Nabathea.

The police have asked for a detention order against four Arabs, three of them residents of Acre, and one from Kfar Yassif. All four have disappeared from their homes since the demonstrations last week.

TEL AVIV WELCOMES DAHOMEY PRESIDENT

JERUSALEM POST STAFF
TEL AVIV. — Tel Aviv welcomed President Hubert Maga at the Ort school yesterday afternoon with clapping and cheering by the students. On hand to greet him were Mayor Mordecai Namir and the Director of Ort, Mr. Y. Yulovsky.

After touring the school, Mr. Maga and his party, who had arrived from Miraflores, drove to the exhibition grounds, through streets decorated with the flags of the two countries and lined with cheering school-children, scouts and groups of citizens who smiled and waved at the motorcade.

The handicraft exhibition was in fact the highlight of Mr. Maga's tour of Tel Aviv. Hundreds of flags fluttered in a stiff breeze as the car carrying the DaHOMEY President, Mr. Namir, and the Town Clerk, Mr. Yehuda Nedivi — who acted as translator — drew up to the main pavilion. Outside the pavilion, the City Council, Tel Aviv's magistrates, the Minister of Police, Mr. Behor Shitrit, and other distinguished guests waited to be introduced by the chief of protocol, Mr. A. Gilboa.

In his speech of thanks for the warm welcome he had received, Mr. Maga said that Tel Aviv should serve as an example to his own country. He described this city as a great metropolis of "hard-working citizens, an industrial center in the heart of an agricultural area."

The law will also cover former Jewish communal workers in Germany who entered the communal service only after they were forced out of their former professions and jobs as a result of Nazi persecution, and those who worked for agencies which the law does not recognize as public agencies but who would have acquired the status of public officials if they had been permitted to continue at their jobs.

Under the amendment, too, university graduates who were denied civil service jobs because of Nazi persecution will be entitled, retroactive to the date of their graduation, to a pension amounting to 50 per cent of that of persons who did enter the public service. Applicants must prove unequivocally that their rejection was due to Nazi persecution.

The amendment also increases from the present 75 per cent the size of the pension for former members of university academic staffs. Applications must be submitted by December 31.

'Child's World' Opened in Haifa

By YAA'COV FRIEDBERG, Jerusalem Post Reporter
HAIFA. — An international exhibition of toys and playthings, "Child's World '61," was opened yesterday morning before an impressive gathering of Ambassadors, members of the consular corps and local notables.

Throughout the day, the show drew an even more impressive and impressed crowd of children and their parents.

Prominent among the bright-eyed youngsters looking over the toys sent by a score of countries was Mayor Abba Khoussy, who was apparently unable to tear himself away from the show.

The exhibition was organized by the Municipality, under the patronage of the Foreign Minister, Mrs. Golda Meir.

The toys faithfully reflect the industrial progress of the countries of origin. The United States' pavilion is packed with walking life size dolls; robots; atomic power plants; rocket launching bases; military vehicles and planes as well as educational toys, like the "visible man," a plastic transparent doll with every bone, muscle and nerve system visible.

The Japanese have sent a profusion of mechanical toys, including tanks and planes, and noisy machine guns; atomic bomb ray guns and space pistols.

France sent in a beautiful collection of mechanical construction kits, singing birds and peasant carts, England,

Scheme to Reduce Marketing Costs

By ZEEV SCHUL, Jerusalem Post Reporter
TEL AVIV. — A drastic seven-point programme by the Ministry of Agriculture intended to cut vegetable wholesaler profit margins to reasonable levels will be ironed out at a meeting between the Ministers of Commerce and Industry and Agriculture here next week.

The programme incorporates several earlier proposals, including the establishment of "farmer-to-consumer" markets to be held in public squares of the principal cities two or three mornings a week.

The principal points are:

- the compulsory display of prices by retailers (though there will be no price control);
- the introduction of special "bargain stalls" for standard produce to be incorporated into existing shops as well as in public squares especially during peak-of-harvest times;
- the regulation of auctioneering procedures through a device that automatically records bids to put an end to the present inefficient system under which retailers are often forced into putting up with all kinds of irregularities;
- improvement of the produce grading procedure;
- a study of the neighbourhood density of green grocers.

Under the last point, neighbourhoods where there are too many shops — compelling the retailer either to market low-grade produce or charge exorbitant prices — will be thinned out, and new shops opened in quarters where single shops command "monopolies."

Assuming Ministry of Commerce agreement, it is understood that the Ministry of Agriculture is intent on implementing these or amended proposals in the near future.

Gov't Bodies Undecided On B.M.W. Assembly

POST Economic Reporter
A proposal that the Kaiser-Ill company assemble 500 small B.M.W. passenger cars a year, half of them for export, awaits Government approval. It is learnt from the Treasury spokesman. Neither the Inter-Ministerial Committee on Motor Vehicles (headed by Mr. Michael Tsur, Director-General of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry), nor an opposite meeting of the three Ministers, Eshkol, Sapir and Ben-Aharon, held on Friday, could reach a conclusion with further study.

Meanwhile, Mr. Tsur is meeting with the B.M.W. company in West Germany to discuss a prolongation of the option, which (according to Kaiser-Ill) has expired already. Added value of the locally assembled B.M.W. will be low at $150 or 10 per cent of its selling price, but the German firm is prepared to extend the use of locally manufactured parts as they become available.

The Government has no intention of giving the B.M.W. car a monopoly in the Israeli market, and it will receive a preferential treatment as compared with the Suzuki, manufactured by the Autocars Company. On the other hand a locally made vehicle (whether Suzuki or B.M.W.) cannot be sold in competition with imported models unless it enjoys a preferential tax margin — which must be made still larger to allow for the expenses of local assembly according to the Treasury, every dollar of foreign currency saved by the manufacture of the B.M.W. in Israel costs would cost IL7.

Opponents of the plan hold the view that the cost of assembling the B.M.W. would be carried by the public, who will have to pay additional taxes in order to compensate for the loss in customs revenue on imported cars.

Final confirmation by the Knesset Economic Committee is expected in the near future. Meanwhile, a special committee comprising members of the Water Council will review the present water rates.

Rise in Price Of Water Cancelled

JERUSALEM POST STAFF
TEL AVIV. — The recent rise in the price of water announced by Mekorot was annulled over the week-end.

The Ministry of Finance has agreed to continue its subsidy to the Company pending the establishment of the disputed Water Equalization Fund offered by the local authorities.

Agreement on Friday following an urgent telephone conversation between Ministers Eshkol and Dagan. The Jerusalem Post learned here yesterday.

Contrary to earlier reports, the new price list never went into effect but was in the form of a notice of impending price increases.

The Water Law calling for the establishment of the Equalization Fund was passed by the Knesset in 1959, but the Treasury nevertheless continued paying the subsidy. It is understood that energetic Eshkol and Dagan were taken to implement the Law in the near future, overruling the opposition of the local authorities.

The Fund would enable Mekorot to charge a unit water price for the entire country, regardless of the location of the customer.

Final confirmation by the Knesset Economic Committee is expected in the near future. Meanwhile, a special committee comprising members of the Water Council will review the present water rates.

Mr. Leite told the President that his interest in Israel dated from his childhood, as was correspondent in Italy, when he followed the activities of the Jewish Brigade.

Replying, President Ben-Zvi praised Mr. Leite for the series of articles on Israel which he wrote after a visit here two years ago.

Restitution Law Eased for Community Workers

Former Jewish community (khalles) workers of territories which were annexed by Germany after 1937 and which are considered part of the German "cultural belt" will be entitled to pensions under an amendment to the Federal restitution law for public servants, which was passed by the West German Bundestag before it was dissolved recently. The Finance Ministry spokesman announced yesterday.

The areas involved include Sudeten, Bohemia-Moravia, Memel, Danzig, West Prussia (Bromberg), Posen (Poznan), Lodz, Wroclaw (Breslau), Upper Silesia (Kattowitz-Katowice), certain sections of East Prussia, and Eupen-Malmedy.

The law will also cover former Jewish communal workers in Germany who entered the communal service only after they were forced out of their former professions and jobs as a result of Nazi persecution, and those who worked for agencies which the law does not recognize as public agencies but who would have acquired the status of public officials if they had been permitted to continue at their jobs.

The amendment also increases from the present 75 per cent the size of the pension for former members of university academic staffs. Applications must be submitted by December 31.

The increases are from July last and the difference in payments on account of July and August will be added to the September allowance which will be paid from October 1. Pensioners will this month receive IL46.64 and married pensioners IL49.97.

Of Music & Medicine

By HELGA DUDMAN
TEL AVIV. — Pianist Eugene Istomin was forced to cancel his last appearance in Israel because of a strained tendon in his thumb. He left for the hospital in the morning on Monday evening's concert in Tel Aviv, for which Mr. Istomin and Isaac Stern had both been scheduled. Mr. Istomin stepped into the breach and played two violin concertos. He will repeat this performance at Ein Gev Thursday evening.

Mr. Istomin, whose condition had been painful even before coming to Israel, will have to cancel his October concert. The trouble is "tendonitis" — sprains and contractions of the tendon. This is an occupational disease troubling those who work with their fingers — knitters as well as musicians.

Celiste Leonard Rose had earlier cut short his visit here because of a slipped disc — often regarded as an occupational disease of cellists. He had been treated at Tel Hashomer hospital by Dr. Ernst Spira, who also put Mr. Istomin's thumb in plaster before the latter's departure.

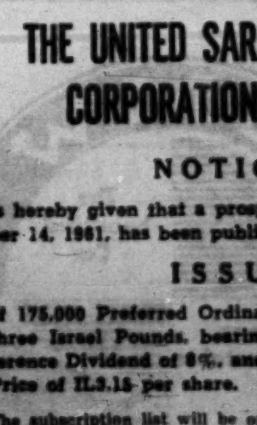

Indestructible Isaac Stern and 84-year-old Pablo Casals remain active. Mr. Stern is now carrying a tremendous burden, with nine subscription concert performances starting October 4 besides the special concerts.

Fifteen Boats In Coast Regatta

JERUSALEM POST STAFF
TEL AVIV. — A regatta all pervaded the Jaffa sea front yesterday morning, as Mayor Mordecai Namir fired the shot that sent 15 boats upwind in the choppy sea in the Jaffa-Caesarea sailboat race.

Port workers and groups of boys and girls lined the quay to watch the regatta. Crews a send-off, and merchant vessels anchored in the area cheered the sailboats on with their sirens.

Under the wind changed course, it was believed that the sailboats might not make Caesarea before this morning. The participants included five vessels of Hapoel Zevulun — 3; Mihmoret Fishing School — 3; Sea Scouts — 3, and Acre Nautical College — 2. Each vessel is manned by a crew of 8-10 men.
